Prairie Quest team awarded 711th HPW Mission Support Services contract vehicle

Fort Wayne, IN – Team PQC (comprised of Prairie Quest, Wyle, Lockheed Martin, and Engility) has been awarded an IDIQ contract vehicle for 711th HPW Mission Support Services. The 711th HPW Mission Support Services entails supporting the transition from Brooks City-Base in Texas to Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio. This transition includes not only equipment and technology but also already established staff and acquiring new personnel as needed. The 711th HPW mission areas include (but are not limited to) the following: aerospace consultation services and medicine, biomedical research, clinical hyperbaric support, specialized medical disciplines (such as internal medicine), medical entomology, information technology, training and curriculum development, and financial and administrative support services.

Brooks City-Base is the home of USAFSAM (USAF School of Aerospace Medicine). USAFSAM trains approximately 6,000 students annually and processes more than 45,000 lab samples per week. The United States Air Force intends to completely relocate USAFSAM from Brooks City-Base to Wright-Patterson AFB in 2011.

Prairie Quest was awarded this IDIQ based on their ability to readily support current operations and functions and transition the program into the consolidated organization at Wright-Patterson AFB. The 711th HPW contract runs for 5 years, with a ceiling of $93M. Partnered with Lockheed Martin, Wyle Labs, and Engility, Prairie Quest will serve as the prime and oversee all task orders issued under this IDIQ.

Prairie Quest is an award winning professional services firm with an impressive track record of public and private sector contracts. With a wealth of experience and expertise, Prairie Quest provides innovative, cost-effective solutions in project management, acquisition management, advisory and assistance services, business process analysis, and technology services.
